
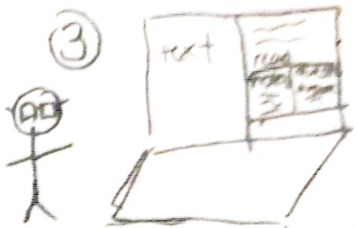
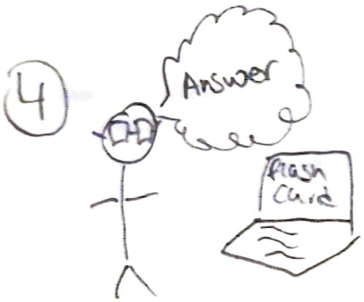
User uses the highlighting feature to survey the reading

user clicks the □ icon to write their questions.



User writes notes and answers questions while they actively read



User uses the flash-card feature to answer the questions created in Step ② outloud.

User reviews the notes and tests their memory

Paper Prototype: Dual screen with flash card generator 10-27-24 tool box that allows the user to highlight, bold, underline, and use the search engine. Uses common images of these tools for ease of learning.

B U search for.

full-page view of the chapter

2

Writing Paragraphs

when clicked the user uses their mouse to highlight text and this pops up:

write your question here

Survey - • highlight headings, subheadings, and bold/italicized print
• read the final summary paragraph

← allows user to check box when they finish the task

Question - use the comment button to write questions and turn the headers into questions

← description of each task

Read - • Underline main ideas
• Reflect and summarize what you have read
• answer the questions you created

Notes

Question 1
type your answer here.

Question 2
type your answer here

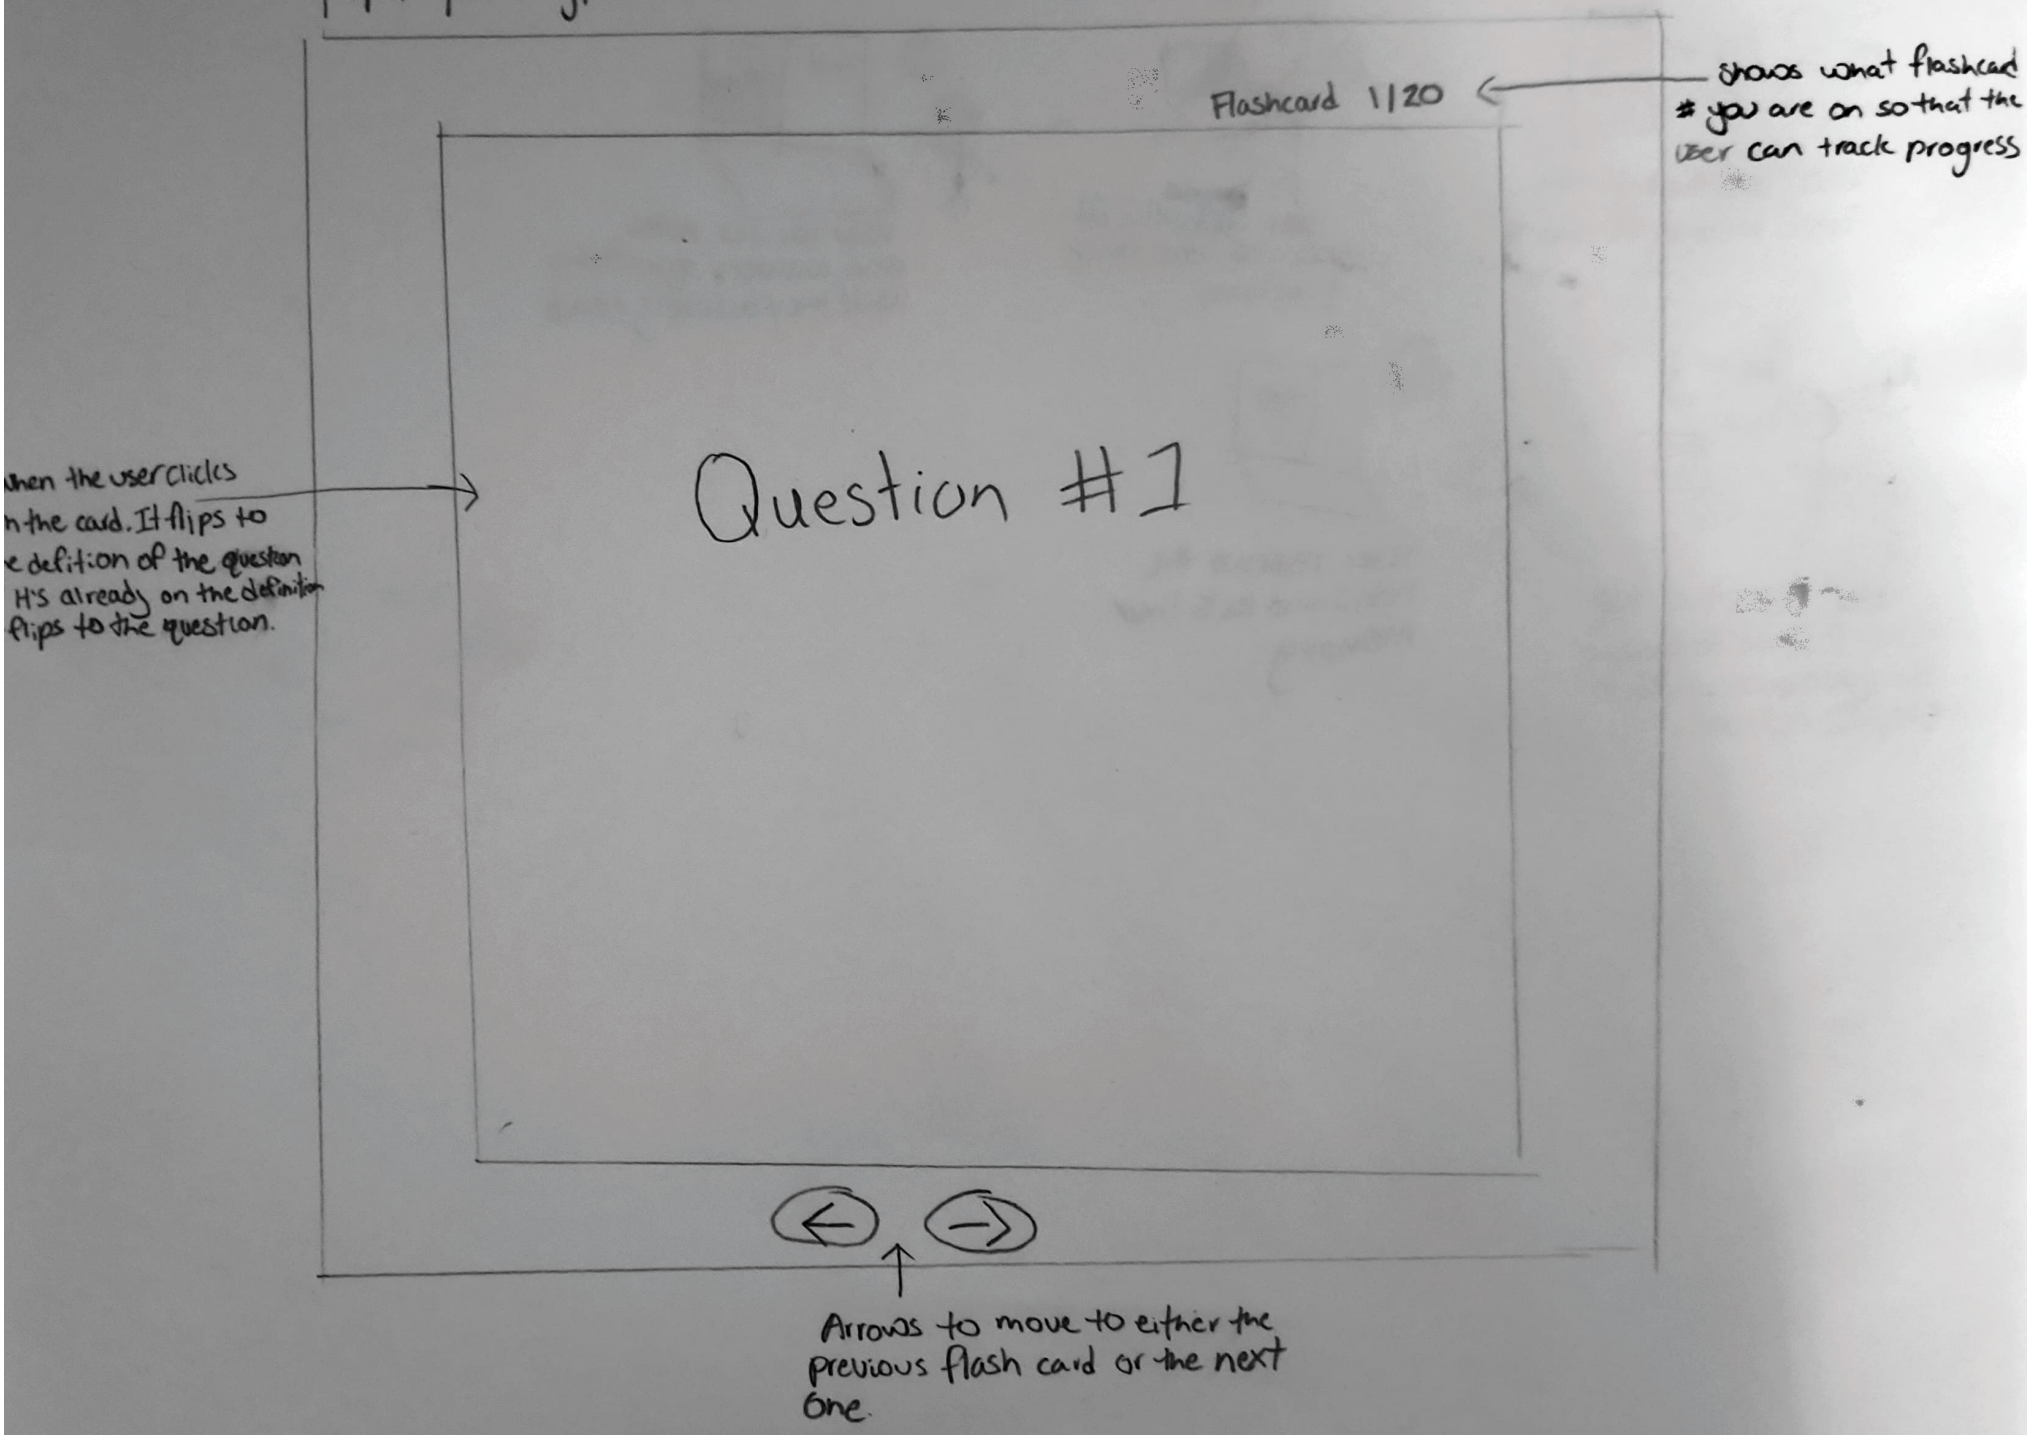
← Notes text editor

← The question the user wrote in the Question stage are generated into the right side and the user is prompted to answer the question

Recite - Answer your questions aloud in your own words
• Click here to generate flashcards

← see figure 4

Review - test your memory
- review notes

Scrolling feature that allows the reader to view one page at a time


Paper Prototype: Flashcards 10-27-24